CS110 Final Project
Aguilar, Medina, Pacia

Contributions Document

Matt Aguilar	created the fully functioning ValueStore class created the functioning btdb class (accepts user input and gives correct outputs) made comments and suggestions for split methods and its needed functions made select function made update function
Owen Medina	created the fully functioning ValueStore class created the functioning btdb class (accepts user input and gives correct outputs) made select function made update function made groundwork and submethods needed for splitting method created simpleInsert method made functioning addValue method and other related methods to it
Brian Pacia	created the fully functioning ValueStore class created the functioning btdb class (accepts user input and gives correct outputs) made select function made update function made groundwork and submethods needed for splitting method created simpleInsert method made functioning addValue method and other related methods to it